IQAC ANNUAL REPORT 2021-2022

G. Venkataswamy Naidu College, Kovilpatti is an organ of the G.Kuppuswamy Naidu Charity Trust for Education and Medical Relief, Coimbatore. Shri.G.Kuppusamy Naidu was a businessman turned industrialist who wanted in his lifetime to establish a Trust for the welfare of women and children. The trust was established on October 29, 1948. The trust set its eyes on two important avenues of social service: Education and Medical Relief. In 1952, G. Kuppuswamy Naidu Memorial Hospital, Coimbatore building was inaugurated by Sri. Jaya Chamaraja Wodeyar, Maharaja of Mysore & Governor, Madras State. In 1966, an application was made to the State Government for the starting of a College at Kovilpatti. The Lakshmi Mills brought Lakshmi to Kovilpatti and G. Venkataswamy Naidu College brought Saraswathi to the area. Since there was no College within a sixty Kilometer radius of Kovilpatti town, the starting of this College was helpful to the students passing out of about twenty Schools in and around Kovilpatti. The College was formally inaugurated on 17th July 1966 by honourable M. Bakthavatsalam, the then Chief Minister of Madras with Professor T.P. Meenakshi Sundaranar, the then Vice-Chancellor of the affiliating Madurai University on the chair. Since then, the college has become a vibrant place and one of the premier institutions in Kovilpatti. In view of the successful growth of the College, the management decided to start Career Oriented Courses in the year 1994 under unaided stream. Over the period of 5 decades, through the sustained efforts and dedicated leadership of the College Management Committee, the college was able to scale greater and greater heights and rose to the present status of multi faculty institution with 14 UG courses and 6 PG courses, 1 M.Phil. Programme and 2 Research programmes by promoting quality and excellence in higher education. The college spans over a total area of 72 acres with a sprawling coverage of Flora and Fauna on the Kovilpatti – Tiruvengadam road, about 5 kms from Kovilpatti town. The college has smart classrooms well equipped laboratories, centralized library and Department libraries, Seminar Halls, Language Lab and Auditorium, Gymnasium, Facilities for Indoor Games and Playgrounds for Outdoor games & Sports. Rest rooms for women's students, Disability resource centre is also active for serving physically challenging students. It aims to spread quality education, fostering excellence in research by promoting academic inquiry. The college was accredited with B++ grade by NAAC in 2007 and Reaccredited with 'A' grade in 2015 and has an Internal Quality Assurance Cell that insists on collaborative excellence to inculcate multi-faceted personality development of students. Employability, along with academic excellence, is the focal point of the institution. The Career Guidance and placement Cell organizes training programmes and arranges campus interviews. Students were encouraged to take part in State and national level competitions.

Definition of a Group

A group consists of a nonempty set G together with a binary operation $*$, such that the following properties hold:

- Closure: If $a, b \in G$, then $a * b \in G$.
- Associativity: For all $a, b, c \in G$, we have $a * (b * c) = (a * b) * c$.
- Identity: There exists an element $e \in G$ such that, for any $a \in G$, $a * e = a = e * a$.
- Inverse: For any $a \in G$, there exists an element $a^{-1} \in G$ such that $a * a^{-1} = e = a^{-1} * a$.

Example $(\mathbb{R}, +)$
 $1b = a$
 Inv. of $a = -a$
 Yes

Example (\mathbb{R}^+, \cdot)
 $1b = 1$
 Inv. of $a = \frac{1}{a}$
 Yes

Example $(\mathbb{Q}, +)$
 $1b = 0$
 Inv. of $a = -a$
 Yes

Example (\mathbb{Q}, \cdot)
 $1b = 1$
 Inv. of $a = \frac{1}{a}$
 No

Example $(\mathbb{Z}, +)$
 $1b = 0$
 Inv. of $a = -a$
 Yes

Properties of a Group: Associativity

The Associative Property, familiar from ordinary arithmetic on real numbers, states that $(ab)c = a(bc)$. This may be extended to as many elements as necessary.

For example:
 In integers, $a + (b + c) = (a + b) + c$.
 In Matrix Multiplication, $(A \cdot B) \cdot C = A \cdot (B \cdot C)$.
 In function composition, $f(g(h)) = (f \circ g) \circ h$.
 This is a property of all groups.

Caution: The Commutative Property, also familiar from ordinary arithmetic on real numbers, does not generally apply to all groups! Only Abelian groups are commutative. This may take some "getting-used-to," at first!

Beneficiary & Number of Beneficiaries: Students - 115, Faculty – 10

ABSTRACT

Plant used in phytoextraction should accumulate and translocate the specific pollutants especially heavy metals. The aim of work is to assess the tolerance mechanism of Amaranthus spinosus L. a selective native hyperaccumulator under nickel stress. Morphometric, biochemical, enzymatic activity, accumulation, translocation and mobility of nickel from soil to root and leaves were studied in co-cultivated hyperaccumulator (Amaranthus spinosus) and hypoaccumulator (Abelmoschus esculentus) at various levels of nickel. A. spinosus accumulated fourfold and fivefold nickel in roots, shoots and leaves, than A. esculentus L. A. esculentus seedlings when cultivated alone were seen sensitive to nickel with decrease growth, poor values of accumulation factor, translocation factor and mobility of metal. But the same plant when co-cultivated with A. spinosus, there was no toxicity symptoms and reduction of growth, values of Accumulation factor, translocation factor and mobility of metal. It is well understood that A. spinosus showing higher accumulation of nickel, more translocation of nickel from root to shoot and good mobility of nickel was increased from level 1 to level 3, It was revealed that the accumulation of nickel was more in root and shoot of A. spinosus than A. esculentus. It is inferred

ABSTRACT

Heavy metal pollutants in the environment are emerging global concern. Barium is one of the heavy metal abundantly used in the manufacture of firecrackers and match industries. This work is aim to eradicate barium from these industrial sites; the new-flanged phytoextraction technology is used to mitigate the metal pollution through hyperaccumulators. Plant used in phytoextraction should accumulate and translocate specific pollutants especially heavy metals. This work aims to assess the tolerance mechanism of Amaranthus viridis L. a selective native hyperaccumulator under barium chloride stress. Morphometric, biochemical, enzymatic activity, accumulation, translocation and mobility of barium from soil to root and leaves were studied in co-cultivated hyperaccumulator (Amaranthus viridis) and hypoaccumulator (Abelmoschus esculentus) at various concentration levels of barium. Amaranthus viridis accumulated fourfold to fivefold barium in roots, shoots and leaves than *Abelmoschus esculentus*L. This is well understand that Amaranthus viridis showing higher accumulation of barium, more translocation of barium from root to shoot and good mobility. The mobility of barium was increased form level 1 to level 3. It was revealed that the accumulation of barium was more in root and shoot of Amaranthus viridis. It is
