LAKSHMI AMMAL RESEARCH EXCELLENCE AWARDS – 2024-2025

The "Lakshmi Ammal Research Excellence Awards" is an esteemed recognition program established by GVN College to encourage and honour teachers who have demonstrated exceptional academic and research output during the academic year.

Named after the wife of the founder of G.V.N College, Sri. G. Kuppusamy Naidu, this award serves as a platform to recognize, encourage, and celebrate academic and research achievements among the College's faculty members. By doing so, the institution aims to cultivate a vibrant research culture, inspire faculty members, and promote a collective pursuit of excellence in teaching and research.

Award Selection Process

The process of identifying the deserving awardees for the "Lakshmi Ammal Research Excellence Awards" is meticulous and unbiased, involving the following steps:

Research Evaluation

1. The Research and Development Cell along with Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) conducts a comprehensive evaluation of the research contributions made by GVN College faculty members during the academic year by constituting a committee.
2. The evaluation considers the quality, impact, and relevance of their research work, including published and presented research papers and overall research output.

Recommendations

Based on the research evaluation, and the recommendation of the expert committee Research and Development Cell & IQAC prepares a list of faculties who have made outstanding contributions to their respective fields of study and submit to the management.

Final Selection

The final awardees are chosen after careful deliberation and approval by the college's academic leadership.

Recognition

Each awardee is individually recognized for their exemplary research achievements. The awardees will be presented with a certificate of recognition and a symbolic memento, symbolizing the college's appreciation for their dedication to research and teaching.
